Explain the causes, characteristics, and consequences of industrialization between 1750 and 1914.

- Reasons why Britain industrialized
- Calico Acts of 1720 and 1721
- Edmund Cartwright
- James Watt, 1765
- Henry Bessemer
- George Stephenson
- Factory system and working conditions
- Luddites
- Mass production
- Corporation
- Monopolies, trusts, and cartels
- Effects of industrialization
- Demographic transition

Write a paragraph with your neighbor for causes, characteristics, and consequences. Include:

1. A topic sentence that summarizes.
2. Two evidence sentences for each fact that belongs in the paragraph.
3. An analysis sentence for one fact.
4. A continuity = something that stayed the same from 1750 to 1914 related to your topic